The following statement appears in the Pall Mall Gazatto: "All the ex rao. dinary proosedings of the many fanatical sects, whose rapid increase has excited so much soxiety in Russia, are fairly thrown in the shade by a terrible act of self-immolation which is reported from the government of saratow. A few made their appearance in that part of the empire, prouching asli-destruction by fire as the only sure road to salvation, and so readily was dreadful doorrine received by the ignorant and superstitions peasantry that in one large village no less than seventeen bundred persons sasembled in some w-oden houses and having barrieaded the doors and windows set the buildings on fire and perished in the flames The authorities are doing all they can to stay the progress of this new madness, but their task is obviously a difficult one. -The eminent Belgian painter, Baron Jean Henri Leys, whose death on August 27th, at Antworp, has been ancounced, was born in 1814, and was originally intended for the church. At the early age of fitteen he became a pupil of his brother-in-law, Brakaleer, who was an artist of so .e distruction. In three years' time he had mad, suob progress that a picture from his easel was assigned a place in the annual ox abition at Brussels. His favorito line was the bisioxical, and he excelled in all archaplogical details, in the obstumes, manuers, buildings of the Low Countries, inmore and more to the pre-Raphaelites in treatmen' and flush; autil his latest pictures were marked by a hardness beyond the most advanced of the realistic school. Among his greater works are, "Margaret of Austria rec.iving the Caths of the Alchers of Antwerp," "Young Luther Singing in the Sireres of Essuadi." and "the Instantion of the Gordon Po.co " A critic, in commenting upon the moras of this artist says: "If there wers no such things as sun and stransphere, and all o'j.a s were seen in broad light on all sides, the Baron Leys, would perhaps rank as one of the greatest painters of all time; but the total absent of shadows in his pictures, and his mability or nowillingness to soften distant objects by an interpostug medium, are as fatal to his reputation as to his popularity. THE DAILY NEWS. the summons was granted, that Colonel O'Mahoney and others bired Mr. Rossa to edit a paper published in Dubliu, called the Irish People-afterwards seized by the British government. It is alleged that Mr. Rosss advanced the sum of $2500 to the man agement of such paper, and that the further sum of $5500 was due him on account of his services as editor. It is further alleged that the money in court was in-tended for the liquidation of the debt. Mrs. Rossa, on behalf of her husband, therefore claims $8000 m gold, with compound interest accrued since 18th September, 1865. Colquel O'Mahony is required to file an answer before September 17. In an interview with Colonel O'Mahony, he stated that he never hired Mr. Rossa—that he never had any interest in or received profit from the Dublin Irish People, which, he said, was a private speculation of the home organization. He classes the claim as frivolous in the extreme, and hints that the lady has been cajoled into taking the step.

CHARLESTON.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 8, 1869.

The Pire Benariment.

It is said that the City Council will be asked at an early day to abolish the present fire department and create a paid fire department, consisting of six steam fire ongines, with one engineer and ten firemen to each engine. This is to be proposed on the score of economy, and not because any fault is found with the present fire department. which, we undertake to say, is as thoroughly efficient as any fire department in the United States.

Only a week ago a bill was passed by the City Council making six colored fire companies a part of the fire department, and authorizing them to be paid one-half the compensation paid to white fire companies baving the same class of engine. This measure adds about $5000 a year to the cost of the department, and it is rather inconsistent that the very men who insisted on passing this bill should now be so anxious to break up the wnole department "for the sake of saving a few thousand dollars."

The cost of a paid fire department of six steamers, each having one engineer, at $720 a year, and ten fremen at $480 a year, would be $83,120. For the year ending April 27, 1869, the whole cost of the fire department, consisting of 8 steamers, 4 hand engines, 2 trucks and 4 auxiliary companies, was $80,521. That is to say, we had last year 16 engines and 2 book and ladder empanies for two thousand five hundred and ninely nine dollars less than the cost of the prop sed paid department which ir to have only 6 engines. This fact is ernor, 20 403. A United States senator is a year. This is the whole expense to the city of each stram engine. And yet it is in the Senate relative to the impeachmen steam engines, each of which is to cost ure. The malcontents are not, it is appreyearly $5520 We do not stop now to hended, sufficiently strong to prevent his adding one cent for grease, oil, repairs of terest is attached to the election in Maine, engines, repairs and renewals of hose, as her vote, with her State motto-"Dirigo," which, together, amount to a very considcrable rum. The new plan would give us ing occasions as tending to show which 6 steam engines and 2 hopk and ladder companies at a cost of nearly $40 000. Last tear our volunteer fire department cost $80 000 for 8 steam engines, 8 hand en- tember. I. October the great field days of companies belong to those e impanies, and are their private property. At the very beginning, then, the city would have to prowide engines for the department, and we leave it to any ingenious Alderman to determine how the city can afford to buy, for cash or on eredit, six steam fire engines of the same class as those now used by our volunteer department. This would cost, we suppose, at less $50,000.

There is not, as far as we can see, one solirary sound argument in favor of the proposition for creating a paid fire department; but there is every reason for believing that such a change would add largely to the expenses of the city, while it would give us a department weaker numerically, and certainly less trustworthy, than the one which now protects us against the greatest danger to which our property is exposed.

Scott's Railroad Taction

About a month ago we brought to light s bill in quiry fied in behal of the President and Directors of the Bank of the State of South Carolina against the Laurens Rail road and others, in which bill complaint was made that at a sale, under an . I oution at law, of the rolling stock of the Laurens Railroad Company. (that corporation being tusolvent, and the State and the bank being both beavily interested as creditors in the disposition of its assets.) "a locomotive was sold and knocked off to his Excellency Robert.

R. Scott, not in his official character as the formulation of the interested as an individual, and for the property will endeavour or mutain the light property will endeavour or mutain the light property will endeavour or mutain the light property. The property will endeavour or mutain the light property will endeavour or mutain the light property. Railroad Company, (that corporation being that the agent, one J seph Crews, who "acted for the purchaser, bas proclaimed that he means to remove the said locomotive, regardless of the paramount liens of the Sate and the bank, both liens being per "feeted long anterior to the judgment under which the locometive was sold The complainants, therefore, prayed for a writ of injunction restraining Scott and Crows from removing the locomotive or any other m vahle property of which they migh bave become purchasers. Attorney Gene ral Cnamberlain, himself a newly imperted Rautical, joined in the prayer for this injunction, charging that "the purchasers "under said sale (Scott and Craws) are now designing and contriving to remove and dispost of said property so purchased."

The next thing was a letter, from "Veri-

'tas" defending Scott. "Veritas" is in the confidence of Scott, and in his letter said:

confidence of Scott, and in his letter said:

"The Governor was not aware that any such "property was to be sold. It is alleged that a number of persons who have possession of the road in violaties of the charter, running it "purely in their own interest, have been sell-"ing all the loose property of the road to the great injury of the State, which has the primolpal interest in it, and also to the injury of the bondholders. A short time ago they destack it be eyinder from one of the engines, "and were about to sell it to the Greenville "Railroad. Mr. Joseph Crews, representative "from Laureus, happened to be prisect, and believing, from what he knew of the circumstances attending the sales, that the proporty was about to be sacrificed, bought it for "the slate in the name of the Governor. Mr. "Orews believed he would be fully justified by "the Governor, and that it was better that the "property should be held in the name of some vone who would prevent its being squandered "for the benefit of a few private midviduals."

The third chapter in this eventful history

The third chapter in this eventful history is the letter from Mr. James, which we print this morning. It is more than Scott and "Veritas" can answer, try they never so hard. An attempt to whitewash Governor Scott in this as in every other branch of his tactical course, is only a waste of material. The more he is scraped the blacker he growe.

The September Elections.

The first of the fall elections took place in California on Wednesday. The members of the Legislature, county officers, and two judges of the Supreme Court were then chosen. There was great excitement be fore the decisive day, in the rural districts as well as in the large cities, and it was difficult to define some of the subdivisions of party. The last election for judges of the Supreme Court in California occurred in 1867, when Royal T. Sprague, Democrat, was elected over John Curry, Republican, by a majority of 2269. In 1868 Grant carried the State by 514. In the Legislature of 1868 the Republicans have a majority of six in the Senate, and the Democrats a majority of twenty in the House-Democratic majority on joint ballot, fourteen. The Democratic candidates for judges of the Supreme Court are J. B. Crookett and William T. Wallace, and for Mayor of San Francisco Prank McCoppin.

The Vermont election takes place on the 7th of September, for Governor and State officers. As the State is overwhelmingly Radical, the election of that ticket is morally certain. The State election in Maine occurs on the 18th September, and will afford some indication as to the popularity of General Grant and his administration, and whether they have lost or gained popularity. Grant's majority in 1868 was 28 080 and Chamberlain's, the present Republican candidate for Goveasily accounted for. At present each of to be chosen in place of William Pitt Festhe steam engines is paid by the city $8000 senden, who seems to have lost some caste with the Radicals on account of his course proposed to create a paid department of six trial—he having voted against that measshow, as can be done, that our fire depart- return to the Senate if he desires to ge ment costs less for its size than any other There is also some muddle in regard to the thre department in the country.
